

Virtual Class Etiquette and Expectations

Arrive to class ready and on time. Please be ready and waiting to join the virtual class at your regular class time in your dance shoes and dance attire. Attendance is still important virtually. If you cannot make a class, please communicate with your Instructor or email erin.zintek@appleton.org that you will be missing.

Restroom breaks. Please use the restroom before class as we only have 30 or 40 minutes.

Microphones muted. We will give the first 5 minutes or so of stretch time and social time with microphones unmuted when your instructor calls on you. During the class time, please keep your microphone muted so you can hear your Instructor throughout the class.

No food or gum chewing. Please refrain from chewing gum or eating during class time. We understand that dance nights can get busy, please try to have your child eat a snack between class instead of during for safety reasons.

What you need for class. It is important that each student dances on a hard surface such as hard wood, tile, laminate, vinyl, etc. If a hard surface is not available, carpet will work in a safe environment. Please move any large objects out of the way so you have a safe area to dance in. Some classes (such as ballet) may require a barre or flexy band. If you do not have a flexy band we will be happy to provide you with one. Your child may also need a water bottle close by.

Supervision during class. We ask that each beginner student has a parent in the room with them during the virtual class time to help with questions, muting and unmuting, and keeping your child focused on the class as much as possible. We understand this will be a big adjustment for you child and a learning experience for us all. We hope everyone will try their best to stay engaged and have fun!

Email questions. If any questions come up during class that do not pertain to the movement or class itself, please address all questions, comments or concerns to erin.zintek@appleton.org. She will get Instructors the message, and they will answer your questions in a timely manner.

Have fun! We strive to make dance class as much fun as possible. We may incorporate silly ideas to keep the class fun. For example, bring your sibling to class day, pajama day, princess day, etc. We want our students to have as much fun as possible during these hard times! UDA Instructors will offer a quality class that keeps your child moving, thinking, engaging, collaborating, and expressing themselves through the art and magic of dance.
